

THE FRONT YARD

Kidzu's Garden is in full bloom with plentiful produce!

Get your hands dirty as we play, explore and care for our garden and discover the plants and critters that live there. Children, caregivers, and community members are invited to help us maintain our beautiful outdoor space. This program takes place Thursday mornings from 10:15-11:15am, is included with museum admission, and is geared for ages 3-9.

Ever wonder where your food comes from? Join us at the Chapel Hill Farmers' Market for this new monthly program the 3rd Saturday of each month at 10:15am! We'll combine science, cooking, and fun in the garden! We'll learn how plants, farmers, and pollinators work together to grow the food we eat. Free with museum admission. Ever wonder where your food comes from? Join us at the Chapel Hill Farmers' Market for this new monthly program the 3rd Saturday of each month at 10:15am! We'll combine science, cooking, and fun in the garden! We'll learn how plants, farmers, and pollinators work together to grow the food we eat. Free with museum admission.

Can't wait until the next program? Check out a Discovery Pack at the front desk and create your own journey in Kidzu's learning garden any time Kidzu is open! Each Discovery Pack is a self-guided adventure, with all the costumes, stories, props and ideas for a day of outdoor play – investigate honeybees, fairy creatures and gardening. An ID and credit card are required to check out Discovery Packs. Packs not returned or returned damaged will incur a $40 fee.